From the Desk of Deacon Matt

On the Sunday after Christmas, we honor the Holy Family and hold them up as a model for our own families. From the start, Jesus, Mary, and Joseph had to deal with hardships, uncertainty, and even danger. But together they placed their trust in God and grew ever stronger in their bond with each other. We too are called to trust in the Lord as we face the trials and difficulties of our own lives. As we continue our Christmas celebration, may our families be consecrated in the love of the Holy Family. The words that Ben Sira and Saint Paul use sound almost too good to be possible: honor, reverence, consideration, kindness, humility, gentleness, patience. Yes, these are ideals and sometimes we fall short. Therefore, Paul writes that we must bear with one another and forgive one another, as the Lord has forgiven us again and again. Try as we might, we can become inconsiderate, impatient, or unkind to a family member. Or they may to us. Forgiveness restores our relationships, no matter who's at fault or more to blame. Our love for each other can make forgiveness easier and more desirable, leading to reconciliation more easily. Having the peace of Christ in our hearts can give us the serenity we need to accept or request forgiveness without bitterness or resentment. May today's readings encourage us as we seek God's blessings upon families of every kind, especially our parish family as we Live to Give the Gospel, let us Glorify the Lord and let us Become the Good News by Being the Good News.

Shalom Shalom
